WELCOME TO THE EXR RACING SERIES

The EXR Racing Series is open to drivers of all levels. With a variety of programs, including a racing school, our facilities are a premier destination for racers and enthusiasts alike. Drivers can push the limits in our exclusive racecars on our very own track locations at the Las Vegas Motor Speedway and the Auto-Club Speedway in Los Angeles.

Very successful in Europe with the Mitjet Series, the EXR Racing Series offers three types of competitive racing; time attack, sprint series and endurance series. Each type of race is different, catering to driver preference and skill level. A professional instructor will guide you through any of the programs offered to ensure that each driver attains all necessary skills before participating in our championship. This means understanding rules, becoming comfortable with the car, and learning the fastest way to get around the track.

Our mission is to bring real racing to the masses and with the EXR Racing Series and the EXR Racing School, we have done just that. Welcome to the EXR Racing Series.
